£1m care home acquisition

Husband and wife team Philip and Kim Rogerson have acquired a care home in Preston for £1.1m. The duo, which is also investing a further £100,000 in refurbishing the 23-bedroom property, has bought The Knowle in Ashton-on-Ribble. For Kim Rogerson, the move follows in the footsteps of her parents, who own a five-strong care home chain in Blackpool and Cumbria. She said: "I grew up in care homes and when my husband sold his company we started looking around for a new business venture and it seemed natural to return to the sector." Business broker Redwoods Dowling Kerr advised on the deal.
